POST CLOCK RESTORATION

Verdin clock restoration can restore your post clock to its original beauty ... and more!

Your post clock is a landmark, a focal point that people have enjoyed for many years. If you have an older post clock, you may find that Father Time has taken his toll. Years of harsh weather extremes, even pollution, can dull the finish on your post clock causing your once sparkling amenity to lose a bit of its lustre.

It's time for the experts at Verdin Clock Restoration to bring your post clock back to its original beauty! The highly skilled craftspeople at Verdin take pride in the attention to detail required to fully restore your clock and return it to its original beauty. We renovate post clocks either on-site or in our factory using only genuine Verdin parts.

Factory Restoration

Especially suited for antique clocks, factory restoration can replicate all the parts of your damaged clock to make it look brand new.

On-Site Restoration

Many clocks can be repaired on-site which includes new paint, restored header wording and replacement of Lexan dial covers. In addition, any timekeeping equipment that needs replacing is addressed and new LED light kits are installed.
